

The vote scheduled for next week should be delayed to allow the general public the opportunity to debate this issue of great importance.